DONNIE KENNEDY Announces Candidacy for LT. C-i-C SCV 2022

As Chief of Heritage Operations, I have had the honor to assist the Commander-in-Chief of the Sons of Confederate Veterans as we fight to vindicate the Cause for which our Confederate ancestors fought. We have been successful in establishing a new and different strategy for defeating our neo-Marxist enemies and produce for our Cause, total victory. As your Chief of Heritage Operations for the past three years, I have become convinced that our enemies are determined to not just defeat us but to destroy every last vestige of the South. I am determined to do my utmost to not just stop this neo-Marxist attack but to obliterate our enemies. To push this effort even further, I am seeking the position of Lt. Commander-in-Chief of the Sons of Confederate Veterans. Working with our new Commander-in-Chief and new Chief of Heritage Operations, we can secure total victory of our Cause—the neo-Marxist rabble will not destroy our Southland! As your next Lt. Commander-in-Chief, I will use that office as a larger platform from which we can take our fight into the heart of our enemies’ territory. In the next few months, I will begin publishing position papers on the following topics:

- (1) Why the SCV has a retention problem and how to correct that problem.
- (2) Enhanced videos for camp programs and social media outreach.
- (3) Sending e-mail and U. S. Postal letters to new members to help them understand the workings of the SCV.
- (4) Work with our new Chief of Heritage Operations to expand the SCV’s PR campaign.
- (5) Coordinate with each Division Heritage Operation to increase our positive narrative about Southern heritage.

The time has long since passed for the SCV to think and act in a defensive mode. We must look to means and techniques that will insure total victory for our Cause. Few if any military conflicts are won by a purely defensive strategy. It is time to go on the offensive and make our enemies respond to us.

Just over 100 years ago a veteran of WWI, Major E. W. R. Ewing, Historian-in-Chief, SCV, wrote the following: “In the South we are coming too much to whisper that ‘our fathers did their duty as they saw it.’ We should be calling to the world from the housetop that our Confederate fathers were right.” As your next Lt. C-I-C of the SCV, I invite you to join with me on the housetop and let us shout to the world that, The South WAS Right! Donnie Kennedy, Lt. C-i-C 2022.

Secession & Nullification—Becoming Mainstream in the U.S.A.

Shortly before the election of America's first mail-order president, a Catholic TV spokesperson in Michigan who supported Trump because of Biden's pro-abortion stance, was asked what would happen if Biden is elected? He paused and then answered that perhaps some states would consider seceding! I was amazed not only with his answer but that no one objected to his answer. In another video this same organization noted that, "America is a divided nation, and, if we are totally honest here, it hasn't been one nation in many years."

A Catholic blogger from New Hampshire wrote the following on December 23, 2020, "From a Catholic point of view, the benefits of secession include new opportunities for legal protection of the unborn, reduced cultural and political conflict..." Traditional Catholics, just like traditional Protestants, are distressed by the fact that the Federal government has nullified the states' right to regulate abortion and has become the champion of the secular humanist march toward Gomorrah. The inability of Christians to control the moral standards of the U.S.A. has caused many to reconsider the political value of nullification and secession. As pointed out in Be Ye Separate: Bible-Belt Revival or Marxist Revolution the South (the Bible-Belt) has a major responsibility in promoting a return to local self-government.

Even leftists are beginning to see the value of secession! For several years there has been a growing Calexit movement seeking the secession of California. Recently a Leftist Professor called for Blue State Secession. The left-wing publication The Nation recently headlined, Left-Wing Nation Essay Calls for 'Blue-State Secession' in a February 16, 2021 article. In it the author presented a thorough case for a "blue-state secession." According to a recent poll, 29% of Americans think we should divide the United States into "like-minded regions."

As explained in Dixie Rising, Be Ye Separate, and Red State Red County Secession the mere threat of secession will often cause an abusive central government to relent in its oppressive acts and recognize the right of local self-government.

One Nation Under God—Whose God?

Secular Humanism vs. Traditional Christianity

The recent United States Supreme Court ruling making LGBTQ a federally protected minority was not the first Federal Supreme Court ruling aimed at destroying America's fundamental Christian morality. America's progressive slouch toward Gomorrah began in earnest with two Federal Supreme Court cases. One in 1962 and the other in 1963, in which the United States federal government announced that God, Bible reading, and prayer will no longer be tolerated in taxpayer financed public schools. The tradition of prayer and Bible reading in American schools is as old, and even older, than the United States itself—dating back to colonial times. American Christians were shocked at these anti-Christian United States Supreme Court rulings! But despite the shock, Christians meekly accepted the results—incorrectly assuming that, “The Federal Supreme Court is the final authority regarding our Constitutional rights.” These Federal Supreme Court cases were the opening salvos in the cultural war against America's traditional Christian values. In the hands of progressive and secular humanists, the Federal Supreme Court became the instrument that would eventually overturn over 2,000 years of Christian moral teachings regarding the definition of marriage and overturn the right of states to protect the unborn—a right reserved by the states via the Ninth and Tenth Amendments to the U.S. Constitution.

The Federal Supreme Court is the leading, but not only, governmental agency actively advancing America's progressive, slouch toward Gomorrah. “We the people” of America—today known as deplorables, irredeemables, and bitter clingers—elected politicians who promised to defend our Christian moral standards but upon arriving in Washington, DC, their actions have not lived up to their promises. In the current system of American government, “we the people” have been rendered defenseless, while the supreme federal government has become our master. In contemporary America, the federal government's will, not the will of “we the people,” is now supreme. But this has not always been the case in these United States. When faced with the choice of violating their moral standards by meekly following the federal government's dictates or taking bold action to enforce their moral standards, Americans of prior generations took bold action to defend their moral standards! To learn how Christians can reclaim a nation under God:

Seeking a Solution to America's Irreconcilable Ideological Divide

With the questionable election of America's first mail-order president, even the most zealot "one nation indivisible" Southern patriot must confess that these United States are no longer united in spirit. We are united in the same way that the people of Tibet are united with Communist China. There exists a sharp and irreconcilable ideological divide in the America of the ruling political/financial elite and the rest of America—the so called "bitter clingers," "the irredeemables," and the "smelly Walmart shoppers," who live in America's "fly-over" country. This divide will not be remedied by "reaching across the aisle," or compromising with the ruling elite. The ruling elite, both national political parties, gain great wealth and power from the political status quo and intend to maintain their government and their control of the supreme federal government. The Deep State rules and the sheeple must quietly obey.

With the repopulating of America's heartland via massive illegal immigration from third world socialist countries and the ever-increasing expansion of the government's welfare dependent class, it is only a matter of time until "conservatives" will become a minority in our own country, our own state, and our own local community. Those of us who believe in local self-government, low taxes, and traditional Christian moral values must act decisively if we are to save the little upon which we now barely subsist. The question remains, "Can a nation so radically divided remain together as one nation while preserving the principle of local self-government?" Yes, it is possible but whether it is probable is yet another question.

As explained in Red State Red County Secession it is possible for the United States to remain united if Blue State voters acknowledge the right of State nullification and the right of Red Counties in Blue states to secede and form a state of their own. For example; the conservative voting counties of western Virginia may want to secede and form their own state separate from the liberal, neo-Marxist counties next to the Great Beast that Washington, DC, has become. Nullification and county secession would allow "Blue" voters to rid themselves of the folks they disparagingly refer to as "smelly Walmart shoppers," while allowing "Red" voters to create a state government that would represent, protect, and promote their interests.

"We the people" who believe in traditional American values are, today, a stateless people. We have no government to protect and promote our interests. Stateless people are easy targets of genocide. Our opponents have often voiced their desire to "exterminate" us as a people or failing that to at least rid "their" society of our culture, our heritage, and our Christian faith. "We the people" face a radical choice: Accept the coming genocide (culture genocide if not actual) or take decisive action to return America to its original Constitutionally limited Republic or, if the neo-Marxists rebuff our efforts to return America to its original Constitutional government, then we shall create a nation of our own.

The Forgotten 11th Amendment

[The following is a summary of Donnie's blog article – link to full article at bottom of summary]

Ron and I often make the point that the South was right in 1861 because America was right in 1776. We also stress the point that early in American history States' Rights was a universal American concept. Each American Colony had withdrawn its support of the British government by its own actions. There was no superior or over-riding governmental agency which pushed any colony to secede from the mother country, each colony acted on its own. This then was the very beginning of what we would later refer to as "State's Rights." States have rights because they are sovereign. No colony was forced by a "union" or some combination of colonies to act against its will because with the rejection of British rule, each colony became a sovereign entity.

Nothing supports the fact of early American belief in State sovereignty more than the adoption of the 11th Amendment to the Constitution. The fact that the 11th Amendment was born by the effort of a Massachusetts Representative adds weight to the proposition that at one time the idea of States being sovereign was an American principle. Lincoln and the Republican Party's rejection of American history destroyed the America of 1776.

Just ten years after the adoption of the Constitution by the "separate and independent" action of "we the people" of sovereign States, the Eleventh Amendment underscored and re-proclaimed that these United States were a republic of sovereign States. The concept of the United States as a republic of sovereign States was totally rejected by Lincoln and the Republican Party in 1861. Nevertheless, early Americans understood that these sovereign States had the power to over-rule any Federal abuse and if necessary, recall their delegated power. In the Federalist No. 43, James Madison notes why secession or recalling delegated rights is necessary, "the safety and happiness of society are the objects at which all political institutions must be sacrificed." The "Union" falls within Madison's definition of "all political institutions." While debating the adoption of the Constitution, Patrick Henry informs Americans which "institution," government or liberty, is most important when he said, "The first thing I have at heart is American liberty, the second thing is American union." These founding fathers and the patriots who ratified the Eleventh Amendment, understood that in a free society liberty always trumps government. Bold action today can re-establish that type of government for our children and grandchildren's future.

The Reason the Tea Party Movement Failed

Donald and I attended and spoke to many Tea Party meetings and rallies. It all started with great hope of defeating the progressive/liberal/neo-Marxist cabal that controls much of our society—especially in Washington, DC. The Tea Party movement was “full of sound and fury” but it produced nothing other than the disappointment and discouragement of many conservatives. Why did it fail? Its purpose was honorable, the people at the grassroots level were well intentioned and motivated by patriotic love of America. I asked a conservative radio host this question and he replied that he thought the great mistake was that “we put too much faith in ‘conservative’ politicians who used the movement to gain votes in the next election.” While this is true, the main failure was the same failure that has plagued the “conservative movement” since 1865—the leaders of the Tea Party movement never developed a strategic plan for ultimate victory over our neo-Marxist enemies.

Provisional Governments – The Tea Party on Steroids

“We the people” have the ability to defeat our neo-Marxist enemies but to win we must follow a strategic plan that will lead to ultimate victory—the re-establishment of a Constitutionally limited Republic of Sovereign States. A country in which the Constitution is enforced by “we the people” via the American rights of nullification and secession. Every “Red State” and every “Red County” must develop Provisional governments to force weak-kneed politicians to protect and promote our interests. This is explained in Red State Red County Secession, Dixie Rising-Rules for Rebels, and Be Ye Separate: Bible-Belt Revival or Marxist Revolution. ## WE NEED ONE of OUR OWN IN A BULLY PULPIT!

Imagine what we could do if we elected one of our own as Lt. Governor of Louisiana and he used the prestige of his office to help fellow Southern conservatives establish Provisional government in every Southern state.

Imagine the impact of having a vocal proponent of traditional Southern values conducting rallies across the South!

Imagine the political force that our irregular political warfare would bring on weak-kneed "conservative" politicians—especially when our efforts are actively promoted by one of our own who uses his office as a Bully Pulpit to promote the reclaiming of America's original Constitutional Republic of Sovereign States.

Imagine the impact a Bully Pulpit would have on our efforts to pass an amendment acknowledging the State's right of nullification and secession.

Second Edition

The procedure manual for irregular political warfare!

What Is Irregular Political Warfare?

We are at war with neo-Marxists who are determined to destroy all that we hold dear and replace it with their nightmarish vision of a socialist utopia. They use traditional political tactics because they control vast wealth and can pour millions of dollars into political campaigns. We cannot compete with them dollar for dollar. Therefore, we must adopt the tactics of irregular political warfare. We must not allow them to choose the political battlefield. We must impose upon them a new form of political resistance—something they have never before faced. Irregular political warfare is explained in Dixie Rising-Rules for Rebels.

Our enemies want us to wear ourselves out making frontal assaults against their strong points but we will outflank them. We will use irregular political methods to leverage our strength at the grass roots and attack them in a manner they do not expect.

Stateless People are Ripe Targets for Genocide

What happened to the Armenian Christians when they had no government to protect them against the Muslim Turks? Genocide! What happened to the Tutsi minority in Rwanda when they had no government to protect them? Genocide! The primary purpose of human government is not to build roads or redistribute income—the primary purpose of good government is to protect and promote the interests of the people who voluntarily give their consent to that government. The sad fact is that today, in the U.S.A., conservatives holding traditional Christian moral values and traditional political values are a stateless people. We have no government whose primary purpose is to protect and promote our interests—we are a stateless people.

America is controlled by a politically correct shadow government. It uses actual or the threat of government force to impose its will upon “Red State” “Red County” voters. Under the current political status quo “we the people” are powerless against the politically correct cabal who control America’s political and social policy.

A prime example of our “statelessness” is when the people of Mississippi voted in a ballot initiative to keep their traditional state flag. But acting upon orders from their Washington masters, the state’s Republican governor and Republican legislature met in “special” session and rammed through a change in the state’s traditional flag—no question allowed! Red State Red County Secession is the solution to such statelessness!

Headlines Prove America Needs Red State Red County Revolution

The headlines below, in bold, demonstrate the social destruction created by our neo-Marxist enemies. “We the people” must initiate a peaceful, non-violent, conservative revolution or else “the little upon which we now subsist shall be taken from us.”

As these headlines demonstrate, the trend downward towards neo-Marxist tyranny is increasing daily. “We the people” must act now to restore true American and Southern conservative values or accept the death of Constitutional Liberty! Don’t wait! Join the Red State Red County movement.

When Rebel Was Cool: Growing-Up in Dixie 1950-1965

Once there was a time when it was cool to have your football team's mascot "the Rebels," there was a time when trains were named "the Rebel," when the United States Post Office issued stamps commemorating Confederate generals and Confederate veterans—yes, once there was a time when Rebel was cool. Ron Kennedy recounts those days in his book When Rebel Was Cool. Using personal history of the Kennedy Twins growing up in rural Mississippi during a time when the entire nation was celebrating the Centennial of the "Civil War." Family and local history is used to explain, to those who were not there, what it was like living at a time when race was not a flash point of hatred, when people's main effort was simply "keeping soul and body together" in an impoverished rural South. It is a recounting of a time that was radically impacted by "ancient" history of war, Reconstruction, and sharecropping.

It was a time when the U.S. military proudly named ships and military bases after Confederate Generals. It was a time when the Dixie Division was a part of the U.S. Army and its band proudly marched flying the Confederate flag. It was a time of material poverty but spiritual richness. It was a time all the children of Dixie need to understand.

Why We Wrote the Third Edition of The South Was Right!

(From the Preface to Third Edition)

Since the 1994 publication of the second edition of The South Was Right! an evil, neo-Marxist, shadow government has taken control of the United States. Everything associated with the traditional, conservative, Bible-Belt South has been demonized by the evil, leftist, shadow government that now controls America's social and political thinking. Evidence of the effectiveness of this evil, neo-Marxist, shadow government can be seen in a 2020 opinion poll. The poll documented that most (77%) of conservatives are afraid to openly express their political opinions. The America where freedom of speech and freedom of expression is a Constitutionally protected right no longer exists! This evil, leftist, shadow government serves as the propaganda center that supports the Yankee Empire's genocidal policy toward its captive nation—the Confederate States of America. The old North/South bargain or détente where the South agreed to remain passive and patriotic and not attempt to secede again in exchange for nominal control of our local, puppet governments—that agreement has been broken. We did not break the agreement, they broke it! This third edition explains how it happened but more importantly it explains what the people of the occupied South can do about it. We make the point that relying on traditional political parties will not produce the necessary fundamental change in the current government if we are to survive as a free people.

National Republicans cower before the demands of this evil neo-Marxist, shadow government, while national Democrats provide political cover for their rioting storm troopers. America's once free press is now controlled by postmodern neo-Marxist who maintain monopolistic control of public information. It services as the evil shadow government's ministry of propaganda. These people are ideologically driven, they detest traditional Western Christian civilization's definition of truth, civility, and due process under the law. Meanwhile the Globalist financial elites provide funding for left wing organizations such as BLM while supplying campaign funds for elitist politicians in Washington, DC. The political elites, our ruling class in Washington, control and dispense the Yankee Empire's perks, privileges, and power. They deal out special access to the bureaucratic Deep State, and special political favors to the supreme federal government's "protected minorities."

Neo-Marxists of every stripe (postmodernists, progressives, liberals, etc.) are actively destroying those permanent things on which our Western Christian civilization is based. The cultural genocide directed against all things Southern that we warned was coming in 1994 has now arrived. Today, Southerners are the only minority who are forced to allow our enemies to define our culture. Southerners are no longer allowed to define or celebrate our cultural heritage. We are in the same position as people in all other captive nations. The people of the South, Dixie, and the Bible-Belt are in a struggle for our very survival as a unique people. The following questions remain, "Do Southerners still possess the courage to take their stand in Dixie? Do Southerners have the backbone necessary to establish their own shadow (Provisional) government in each state to bring pressure on "our" wobbly, weak-kneed politicians?" John C. Calhoun noted that power can only be defeated by a counter-power and tendency by a counter-tendency. If Southerners continue to remain pacified subjects of a supreme federal government that is actively engaged in anti-South, cultural genocide, then the South will turn into another Detroit, Chicago, Zimbabwe or Venezuela. It took a little over a quarter of a century to go from where we were in 1994 to today but it will take only a few short years to go from where we are today to Detroit, Chicago, Zimbabwe or Venezuela. Bible-Belt Southerners should understand the warning: Mene, mene, tekel, upharsin.
