Federal Empire’s Failure to Protect the Borders of Once Sovereign States

The continuing failure of the Federal Empire to protect its subjects from criminal aliens was once again demonstrated by two recent accounts of non U.S. “citizens” slaughtering innocent Americans. In Omaha a young woman was killed by Eswin Mejia in a DUI automobile crash. Mejia is from Honduras but was released on bail. Efforts by the Omaha Police to have Mejia detained by federal Customs Enforcement failed. The deadly crash occurred Jan. 31 and [guess what?] Mejia has not been seen since then—who would have thought!

An even more horrific incident occurred in Kansas and Missouri. In this case federal Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) agency twice failed to remove or detain Pablo Serrano-Vitorino. Pablo is 46 years old and an illegal alien from Mexico. He is accused of using an AK-47 to kill five Americans. Pablo is no stranger to the ineptitude of ICE—he was deported in 2004 but “somehow” he managed to evade ICE and slip back into the U.S. Prior to the slaughter of five Americans Pablo had been arrested for domestic battery but “somehow” ICE missed the opportunity to deport him again—the result of this “clerical error” is five dead innocent Americans.

This is the same Federal Empire that claims it can “screen” refugees that it wants to dump in our once Sovereign States! Our safety, our very existence as a people depends on regaining real states’ rights. Project 2020 is the only real solution to an out of control federal government. See pages 8-10 for more information regarding Project 2020 a Vision for Southern Freedom.

VISION 2020—RECLAIMING REAL STATES’ RIGHTS

For those who are new to the newsletter we have reprinted the information about our call for a ballot initiative for a constitutional amendment acknowledging real states’ rights. See articles on pages 8-10.

Joe Wiley at age 90 (on the left) and Howard Divinity, age 91 taken at Brice's Crossroads in June of 1921. Joe was with Co A 7th GA and Howard was with Co A 12th MS. Uncle Howard Divinity was a local hero in Hazlehurst, MS. Uncle Seth tells his story on page 354 of Uncle Seth Fought the Yankees.

Kith and Kin—What Does It Mean?

Growing up in the deep South we would often hear folks talk about their “kith and kin.” The term included blood relatives as well as friends and neighbors. If disaster struck in the community, the individual or family could always count on receiving immediate assistance from his kith and kin. This transcended racial distinctions. All, black and white Southerners, understood that by Christian morals we were expected to “help your fellow man.” The Plain Folk of the Old South lived by this principle and passed it on to their post-War/Reconstruction descendants. Socialism on the other hand destroys family and community connections and substitutes the heavy hand of government. “Love thy neighbor” is replaced with “obey the government’s rules, regulations & tax collectors.”

Last of the Good Ole Days

Several years ago while working with my son, we stopped and talked about what life was like when I was young. We especially talked about how people back then took care of each other and did not depend upon government. The close family/community relationship that I took for granted back then intrigued him. After thinking about what had been said, he made the comment that “You lived in the last of the good ole days.” That was thirty years ago and at that time I did not agree with him but as time goes on I am more inclined to agree with my son.

In Plain Folk of the Old South, Frank L. Owsley notes the extremely close relationship that existed among the Plain Folk in the antebellum South. The Plain Folk did not depend upon government for their wellbeing but rather snubbed the thought of governmental interference. This tendency of working and depending on each other was noted in the way the Plain Folk of the South would plan their “protracted meetings.” Now if you were a member of the “last of the good ole days” crowd, you would understand that this is what is now misnamed by the modern church as a “revival meeting.” The Plain Folk of the antebellum South would, after their crops were “laid by,” gather at their churches to hold a protracted meeting. The meeting would last until God sent revival to his people. As members of the Pearl Valley, Mississippi community, Ron and I remember working through June and July to get the crops laid by, usually by the third week in July, so we could get ready for our protracted meeting! Yes, we did live in the last of the good ole days.

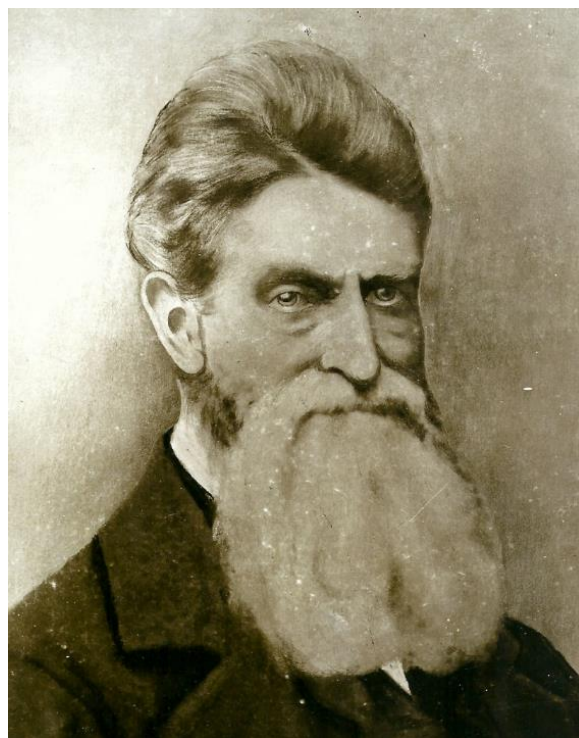

Having lived during those great days and being instructed by those with firsthand knowledge of the Old South, gleaned from many Confederate Veterans, the Kennedy Twins often wondered how we can pass on the story of the real South to the present and future generations of Southerners. Uncle Seth has the answer. By telling short interesting stories, Uncle Seth tries to pass on the real story of the South. This is why Uncle Seth Fought the Yankees was written; hopefully Uncle Seth will be successful in educating a new generation of Southerners.

Yankee Paradox

On September 11, 2001, under the direction of Osama Bin Laden, Islamic terrorists attacked New York City and Washington, DC. Americans were shocked not only by the violent terrorist attacks but also by the “victory” celebrations held by Islamic radicals around the world. Both the media and average citizens questioned what type of world we lived in when such dastardly acts were not only condoned but even greater acts of terror against America were being advocated.

Few Americans today, North or South, would consider Bin Laden and his associates anything other than bloody criminals of the lowest order. Yet, these same people will look upon John Brown as a hero and great defender of the downtrodden. Both men committed acts that were beyond the pale of civilized warfare and both men killed innocent Americans in order to promote an agenda they believed justified their action. Why is it that one man, Bin Laden, is viewed as a blood-thirsty terrorist while the other man, John Brown, is an American icon? Here we see the great Yankee paradox: Some terrorists are evil, while other terrorists are good! In Yankee land as long as the illegal acts are being committed by a Yankee sponsored terrorist against Southerners it is a heroic act, whereas, if such action is being taken against the people of New York or Washington, i.e., Yankees, it is a terrorist act.

Once again it must be pointed out that as a defeated people our interests, be that our history, our economic welfare, or our civil liberties must take a back seat to what is useful and good for the victors. John Brown had one objective, be that in Kansas or Virginia—kill Southerners. It did not matter if the Southerner was a non-slave holder or a free man of color, John Brown’s higher law authorized his attacking and killing Southerners. This is the same “higher law” thought process that Osama Bin Laden used as he attacked Americans on 9-11, yet, Yankees cannot see and Southerners are not allowed to point out such fine distinctions. Until Southerners accept the reality of being citizens of a defeated nation, the Confederate States of America, a continuation of these Yankee paradoxes will be our lasting lot—regardless of who is elected president.

Both men killed innocent Americans; both men were financed by wealthy fellow-travelers; both men were protected by sympatric politicians and governments*—yet one is detested and the other is held up as a Yankee hero; while our Southern Heritage is condemned as evil.

*The Governor of Iowa refused to extradite one of Brown’s men for trial in Virginia.

Socialism, Bernie Sanders and Lincoln

“The Republican Party and Lincoln offered a means for introducing into the United States a system that no one less than Karl Marx’s philosophical twin, Fredrick Engels, referred to as absolutely essential to the promotion of the proletariat [Marxists/Socialists] struggle—one strong, national and indivisible government.” Lincoln’s Marxists, p. 286.

What a joy it is to watch the Republican Party fall all over itself condemning Bernie Sanders for being an acknowledged socialist. The very roots of the G.O.P. run deep in the soil of socialism, communism, and Marxism. The vast bulk of radical socialists and communists, known as the “Forty Eighters,” not only were founding members of the Republican Party but they also pushed Lincoln’s 1860 nomination as the Republican candidate for President. Once elected, these very same socialists and communists flooded into the Union army as they sought to destroy the last great obstacle to creating a unitary, indivisible and all-powerful big government. Consider the words of this Radical Republican Union officer, Col. Robert Ingersoll, “The great stumbling block, the great obstruction in Lincoln’s way and in the way of thousands was the old doctrine of State’s Rights.”

Yes, REAL State’s Rights is a stumbling block to an all-powerful indivisible big government. Unfortunately, today’s Republican Party is still an enemy of REAL State’s Rights. The defeat of and subjugation of the Confederate States of America made socialism in the United States, with or without Bernie Sanders, not only possible but inevitable.

Released Illegal Aliens Murder 138 Americans

A recent report documented how the Federal government released 124 criminal aliens who subsequently committed 138 murders in the U.S. This is yet another example of why “we the people” of the sovereign states must reclaim our right to control the internal affairs within our own states. It would be foolish for us to continue entrusting our safety and security to the arrogant, selfish, and calloused ruling elites in Washington, D.C, their crony capitalists on Wall Street and their donor class who have lobbyists on K-Street. The ruling elite are our rulers—they are the ones who control the Federal Empire.

The Federal government released these criminals to prey upon innocent Americans because the illegal alien’s county would not take them back or a court order blocked their deportation! The Center for Immigration Studies used government data to publish a report noting that “in 2014, ICE released 30,558 criminal aliens who had been convicted of 92,347 crimes. Only 3 percent have been deported...(of) 156 criminal aliens who were released at least twice by ICE since 2013. Between them, these criminals had 1,776 convictions before their first release in 2013.”

We the people of the once sovereign states can sit back and wait for Washington, D.C. to begin to protect us from foreign criminals or we can take matters into our own hands by initiating a movement to reclaim real states’ rights via the Vision 2020 Project. Empires do not voluntarily relinquish the power, perks and privileges inherent in their empire. The Federal Empire is no different. If we the people of once sovereign states wait—we only wait for the final chains of our slavery. ## Establishment Conservative Says White Working Must Die

Last year a reporter penned a slanderous article in a Washington, D.C. based liberal journal in which he postulated that the U.S. would be better off without the South. He ridiculed the South calling it “Jesusland.” This low opinion of the South held by liberals comes as no surprise but in a more recent article we find a national “conservative” who has a similar view of all working class Americans!

Kevin Williamson, writing for the National Review, denounced Trump supporters and declared that the white working class are “immoral.” He also claimed that the white working class has a “warped morality and are a dead weigh on the economy.” He noted that “The truth about these dysfunctional, downscale communities is that they deserve to die. Economically, they are negative assets. Morally, they are indefensible...The white American under-class ...selfish culture whose main products are misery and used heroin needles. Donald Trump’s speeches make them feel good. So does OxyContin.” See: <http://www.breitbart.com/big-government/2016/03/12/national-review-white-working-class-communities-morally-indefensible-they-deserve-to-die/>

By now it should be plain to all that both national liberals and conservatives have little use and actual contempt for we the people who live in “fly over” country—that great land mass between the Washington, New York, Boston corridor and the west coast. We the people are the sheep, while they the ruling elites on the left and right are the great intellectual shepherds of the masses. Our job is to pay tribute in the form of ever increasing taxes, produce sons and daughters to serve in the Empire’s military, and remain docile while the last vestiges of constitutional liberty is completely removed.

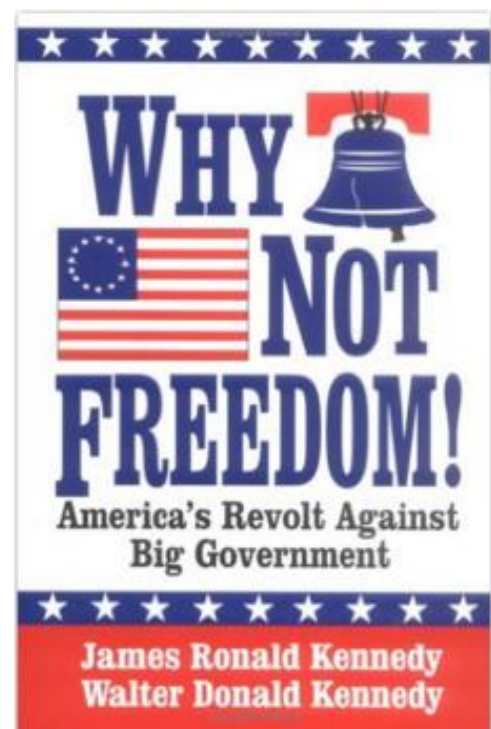

The shameless betrayal of America’s middle class by Republicans is not new. In Why Not Freedom page 51 we noted that it was “conservative” Nixon not liberal LBJ who gave us affirmative action! Nixon’s Attorney General, John Mitchell, reassured the likes of the NAACP by declaring “Watch what we do, not what we say.” The systematic betrayal of conservative America is an open secret in Congress. For example; when a Southern

Alabama SCV Div. Training Montgomery

Congressman was asked how he managed to stay in office so long since he came from a conservative state, he bragged that it was easy, “All you have to do is vote with the liberal leadership, and then make conservative press releases for your constituents to read.” [Why Not Freedom! page 246]

This national liberal/conservative slander and betrayal will continue as long we the people of once sovereign states continue to play the political game by their rules. It is time to do an end run around the Federal Empire’s ruling elite—as described in Nullification: Why and How, available as a free download at http://www.kennedytwins.com/Nullification\_Book\_2012.pdf

Quebec Claims the Right to Secede from Canada

As English speaking Americans we are schooled in American history from the point of view of the English speaking scholars whose education is framed by British and American scholars. We often forget that from the very beginning of European colonialization of North America, the French had claim to the largest land mass in North America. As can be seen from the map above New France was geographically much larger than English possessions in early North America. As a result of France's loss during the Seven Year's War it ceded what was to become Canada to Great Britain in 1763. The Province of Quebec with its French speaking citizens then came under the domination of their traditional English adversary. In 1867 the Canadian Confederation was created and recognized as part of the British Commonwealth—the Province of Quebec being one of the members of the Confederation. The French-Canadian and English-Canadians have always held a differing view of the Confederation resulting in a different vision of the Canadian nation. The differences amounted to a contest between the English who supported a nationalist Canada with a strong central government versus the French who believed in a strong Quebec that essentially controlled all its internal affairs.

In 1957 the Alliance Laurentienne was formed. The Alliance advocated independence for Quebec. The group was influenced by the writings of legal scholars. Their aim was to form a State (as in nation) on the shores of the St. Lawrence. The early 1960s saw the emergence of the first political efforts advocating Quebec independence. The Rassemblement pour l'Indépendance Nationale (RIN) was founded by 30 French Canadian activists. RIN spent several years promoting their cause by distributing pamphlets, books, holding meetings, and demonstrations. Occasional acts of violence were attributed to RIN or its supporters. In 1966 RIN ran 73 candidates during the provincial elections. None of their candidates won but they gained 5.5% of the vote and used the election to promote (as in educating Quebec citizens regarding their right to be free) the cause of Quebec independence.

Also during the early 1960s the Front de liberation du Quebec (FLQ) was organized. It distinguished itself by its willingness to resort to violence to achieve independence. Their acts were mild compared to today's acts of terrorism. Their main targets were mailboxes and other symbols of Canadian nationalism. But as so often happens when violence is resorted to eventually human tragedy occurs. British diplomat James Richard Cross and Quebec's Liberal minister Pierre Laporte were kidnapped. Laporte was eventually killed. This caused a general public backlash against the FLQ. By 1973 the FLQ had completely disappeared.

The political effort for Quebec independence was advanced when the Parti Quebecois (PQ) initiated a series of political campaign based upon the idea of Quebec independence. The movement was given a boost when a popular elected official, René Lévesque, became a leader of the movement. In 1980 the first referendum was held and independence gained 40% of the vote. With this success they worked toward a second vote which was held in 1995. The independence vote won 49.4%. The PQ seems to have taken the position that “if at first you don't secede, try, try, again” and therefore they are very likely to eventually win home rule/self-government for Quebec. But more importantly the PQ has forced the English Canadians to recognize French cultural values and support laws to secure a proper respect for the heritage of French Canadians. Even though they have not won the vote—their decisive actions forced the English to respect their French heritage. PQ has demonstrated that action trumps begging.

Let's Take Our Country Back!

"We the people" of America are in grave danger of losing our country and what is left of our constitutional rights and moral culture! We are in a life-and-death struggle with the forces of leftist political correctness—a gang of socialists, progressives, and liberals who now hold complete sway in both national political parties. These forces of social evil are conducting a successful campaign against our Christian moral values, symbols of our Southern heritage, and our belief in a constitutionally limited federal government. The ruling elite and their crony capitalists friends on Wall Street use the supreme federal government to dictate their will to "we the people" of once sovereign states. We are no longer citizens in a free Republic but are mere subjects who have no effectual means to counter Washington's oppressive dictates. Simply electing "conservative" Republicans is NOT the solution—indeed has the GOP been a true friend to the South?

The GOP—A pretended friend?

If you are in a desperate struggle, which would you prefer—an acknowledged enemy at your front or a pretended friend at your side? You know what to expect from an enemy but the pretended friend may well turn on you at a critical moment in the struggle—especially if he thinks his interests would suffer by remaining loyal to you. The GOP is the conservative South's pretended friend. They want our votes but if a true conservative candidate comes along who might threaten the status quo in Washington, then the GOP will stop at nothing to prevent the election of a true conservative. The GOP's effort to defeat the people's candidate by re-electing Thad Cochran in Mississippi is but one example of our pretended friends in action. The truth is that the GOP needs Southern voters but we do not need the GOP's pretended friendship. We need to leverage this simple fact to help us gain real political clout—to become so strong that they cannot ignore our interests.

Al Sharpton has more political clout than the entire South—Why?

Why do extreme leftists such as Al Sharpton or Jessie Jackson have more influence than we do? The answer is simple: They have developed political clout; they have the ability to threaten and/or punish politicians who ignore their politically correct, leftist demands, while we have no such ability. It will take more than good books, scholarly articles, and endless meetings to reclaim constitutional government enforced by real states' rights. Time is running out for us—we need a solution and we need it now!

Traditional politics is NOT the solution!

The 2014 Senatorial campaigns in Mississippi and Louisiana demonstrated that the GOP will flood money into any campaign to prevent non-establishment candidates from winning. The primary goal of the GOP is to protect the status quo in Washington. The ruling elite of both political parties have a vested interest in maintaining the status quo that provides them with almost unlimited perks, privileges, and power. The ruling elite are too big to fail while "we the people" are too small to count. The Federal Empire's ruling elite can overwhelm any grass roots efforts with money provided by their crony capitalist allies. The sheer cost of running a traditional political campaign in the current Federal Empire has, in effect, disenfranchised all grass roots efforts to control the supreme Federal Government

What is the solution?

The solution is to gain political leverage (political clout) through non-traditional political action. The solution is to engage in a form of political guerrilla warfare. We will engage the GOP in a fight that leverages our strengths while [continue on page 9] taking advantage of their weaknesses. How do we do it? We are so few while they are so many, some may complain. But even though we states' rights Southerners are today a minority in the South—a substantial minority none-the-less—we still have the potential to nullify national GOP ambitions if they refuse to protect our interests. In essence we have the potential to hold the national GOP hostage until they meet our demands!

Vision 2020—A vote for Southern Freedom

During the 2020 presidential election each Southern state will place a ballot initiative on the general election ballot calling for a federal constitutional amendment acknowledging the States as sovereign, possessing the states' rights of nullification and secession. Imagine a world where “we the people” once again are the master in our own homes.

A new way to measure political victory

Even if our ballot initiative does not carry a single state, we still win because we have gained political clout. Our local efforts to gain ballot access for our initiative will have added numerous new supporters to our cause; we will demonstrate to the GOP that we can mobilize voters to defeat any “soft” conservative who willingly compromises with those wishing to destroy our Southern heritage; plus, the national news coverage will make our cause recognizable nationwide. Subsequent to the 2020 general election if the GOP refuses to support Southern conservative interests including protecting our heritage and submitting our states' rights constitutional amendment to the states, then we will remind them that we now have the power to nullify their presidential ambitions by simply running a presidential candidate on a third party ticket or establishing pro-Southern un-pledged electors in each state in all future presidential elections. Our goal is not to win the office of U.S.

president but to prevent our pretended friends from enjoying the fruits of their betrayal to the cause of a constitutionally limited federal government—constitutional limits enforced by “we the people” of the states via real states' rights. Now that's real political clout!

Deo Vindice

The myths that are killing America! As long as children of the South are taught falsehoods about the man who destroyed the original Constitution we will never be Free!

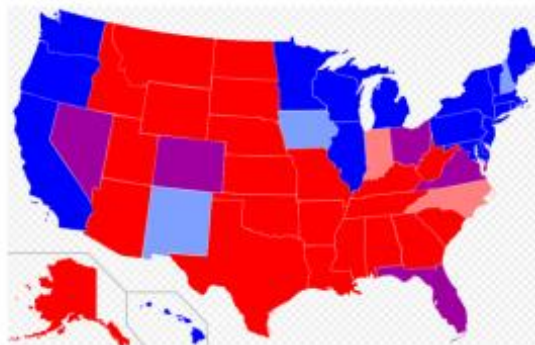

There is a solution! We the people have the power to regain liberty but do we have the will to engage in the struggle? We must work to reclaim our unalienable right to be the masters in our own homes!

What Has the GOP Done for the South?

We must never forget that it was the GOP politicians in Georgia who refused to back an effort to allow the people of Georgia to decide whether to keep the Battle Flag as part of their state flag; nor should we forget that it was a Republican governor who removed CSA plaques in Texas and Republican governor who refused to endorse Confederate history month in Louisiana and it was a Republican governor who removed Confederate flags from the chambers in North Carolina where the state's secession ordinance was signed. The adjacent red and blue map demonstrates how important the South is to the GOP if they want to win the White House. But what have we gotten in return for our support? The GOP's ruling elite use conservative Southerners the same shameful way the ruling elite of the Democratic Party uses black Southern voters.

“We the people” of the once sovereign states of the Confederate States of America have the power to hold the GOP hostage until they address our interests—equal protection for our Southern heritage and submitting to the states a constitutional amendment acknowledging real states' rights—inclusive of the rights of nullification and secession.

The GOP needs us—we don't need them!

These articles, pages 8-10, were written before the infamous shootings in Charleston, SC. The GOP used that shameful act of violence, by a deranged individual having no direct connection to the Southern Heritage movement, to initiate the current round of anti-South cultural genocide.

The GOP needs Southern votes if they want to win the presidency or elect Southern Republicans to the U.S. House or Senate. We cannot afford to finance a standard political campaign but we can conduct a very effective political guerrilla warfare campaign—a campaign that will prevent the GOP from ever winning on a national or state level IF they refuse to acknowledge our right to publically honor our Southern Heritage and allow “we the people” of the once Sovereign States to vote on a constitutional amendment acknowledging real States Rights.

We have the potential to “put the scare in them” – But do we have the courage to do it?
