Ron Kennedy, Susan Hathaway, Donnie Kennedy October meeting in Andersonville, Georgia honoring the memory of Capt. Henry Wirz CSA. Susan is the moving force for the Virginia Flaggers who have been responsible for placing a number of Confederate flags on interstate highways in Virginia. Her brave defiance of the forces of political correctness serves as an example for all true Southerners. She follows in the tradition of the ladies who fought to erect hundreds of post-War Confederate monuments from 1868-1910.

Merry Christmas

Christ is the Reason for the Season

The Kennedy Twins wish all our friends a merry Christmas and to thank you all for the work you do for the Cause of our Southern homeland. This has been a challenging year for all true Southerners; the secular humanist and other enemies of constitutional liberty have been very active; but we the people of the formerly free and prosperous states of Dixie have met their challenge. We are confident that in the end God shall vindicate!

The Christmas Season is a time when all of us should remember that our Heavenly Father gave to us the most precious gift of all in the form of a baby in a manger in Bethlehem over 2000 year ago. The Lamb of God, to purchase our redemption—what greater gift could we have?

Syrian Refugees—States Take a Stand by Defying Obama

With polls showing that a majority of Americans are opposed to Obama’s plan to bring thousands of Muslim refugees to the United States a majority of the states began to push back on Obama’s refugee plan. It appears that as many as 26 states have voiced opposition—remember that it takes 33 states to call for a Constitutional Convention and 38 to ratify a proposed constitutional amendment. At last count almost half of the states had also expressed opposition to Obamacare. In other words, the American people are beginning to see that the only effective way to resist the Federal Empire is to use the power of “we the people” of the once sovereign states! This resistance has emerged without any active effort by those of us who believe in a return to a constitutionally limited republic of republics enforced by real states’ rights! Just think of what would happen if we were organized and pushing for a radical return to local self-government enforced and protected by real states’ rights! We the people cannot defeat the ruling elite in Washington, D.C. but we can do an end run around Washington via our states. The vast majority of Americans no longer trust the Federal government—it is our duty to give the people a real alternative—local self-government enforced by real states’ rights. Vison 2020

Only 19% of Americans Trust Government

A recent Pew Research poll points out a fact that Southerners have known since 1861; the government is untrustworthy. A recently released poll ascertained that only 19% of Americans trust government. Furthermore, according to the poll, a majority of Americans (55%) believe that people at the local rather than national level would "do a better job of solving problems."

One very revealing aspect of the poll demonstrated that 60% of Americans think that major governmental reform is needed. This is a big increase from the same question asked in the 1990s in which only 40% of Americans thought major governmental reform was needed. In light of these three poll results (more info on this poll can be reviewed at <http://www.npr.org/2015/11/23/457063796/poll-only-1-in-5-americans-say-they-trust-the-government>) it appears that now is the time for Southerners to push for that which was proclaimed in The South Was Right! back in 1991: "There must be a radical reformation in the current, overgrown, unresponsive, tax-and-spend federal government. If those who are in control of the government in Washington reject the demands of the people for a government more respectful of our rights, then it will be faced with the prospect of the Southern people following the lead of Lithuania as we demand the right of self-determination" (p 11, TSWR). The only reform that will answer the need of the people at the local level to control—rather than being controlled by—their government is a return of REAL States' Rights. Without the right of interposition, nullification, and secession there can be no REAL States' Rights: But, unfortunately there will surely be, as it is now, federal tyranny. As long as the Federal Empire can dictate what can and cannot be done at the local level and as long as the people at the local level feel helpless to defend themselves and their community against Federal tyranny there is NO reason to trust the government!

Nullification and secession provide means to escape oppression. The mere presence of these weapons produce the same effect on tyrants as an armed citizen has on criminals. Reclaiming Liberty

Natchitoches Bans Confederate Flag

For well over twenty years the Louisiana Division Sons of Confederate Veterans (SCV) has participated in the annual Natchitoches Christmas parade. But during this “season” of political correctness, the mayor of Natchitoches, a small city on the banks of the Cane River in Northwest Louisiana, has determined that he has the right to dictate to the SCV what type of Confederate flags they can display in the parade. Acting like a cross between the Grinch that stole Christmas and an ISIS cultural terrorist, the mayor issued a decree prohibiting the display of the Confederate Battle Flag in this year’s Christmas parade.

Once again Southern heritage is under attack and once again much complaining and posturing will be done by those who support Southern heritage and once again only a poor outcome can be expected. As the Kennedy Twins have so often stated, “You cannot dodge a bullet once the gun has been fired!” All politicians make choices based upon a profit and loss analysis. When the mayor of Natchitoches looks at the people of Natchitoches he understands that a large portion of the African-American community will support his anti-Confederate actions—this is the “profit” side of his actions. He never hears anything from the Southern or Confederate people, therefore his political analysis shows little or no “loss” in his anti-Confederate actions. What is missing here is Confederate visibility. If for months before the mayor had contemplated this anti-Confederate act, ads had been running in the local radio and newspaper promoting a positive view of our Southern heritage two things would have taken place: (1) The people of the area would have a more positive view of their heritage and would be more willing to defend a positive display of Southern heritage and , (2) the local political establishment would have been put on notice that an active group was working in the area to defend their rights as Southerners. These types of efforts make attacks upon our rights/heritage less likely and make it easier once we are attacked to rally local folks to defend their heritage.

Until the Southern movement gets serious about promoting and defending our rights as Southerners (after all, Southern Rights Matter), we are doomed to suffering one defeat after another until that little upon which we now barely subsist will be taken from us. We must learn to be pro-active and not just re-active. Being re-active is very important—just like a good defensive team in football. Yet, as every good coach understands, without an offensive effort, defeat is certain.

Freedom vs Tyranny

"The people of the sovereign states knew that the new government they were creating...had within it the potential to abuse its powers....That is why states such as Virginia and New York specifically reserved the right to withdraw any power they had delegated to the Federal government (secession)." Why Not Freedom, Kennedy and Kennedy p. 249. Because our founding fathers understood the need to have tools in the hands of “we the people” at the local level to control the Federal government, they gave us REAL States’ Rights. With REAL States’ Rights, “we the people” at the local level have the tools to block unconstitutional actions of our agent, the Federal government. Those tools are known as interposition, nullification and secession. With the death of REAL States’ Rights at Appomattox, the Federal government became the Federal Empire. As is pointed out in Why Not Freedom, even when so-called good men (conservatives, such as Ronald Reagan or Newt Gingrich’s conservative takeover of Congress back in the 1990s) are in power they only slow down the growth of the Federal Empire. After these conservative “victories” look what has happened to the Federal Empire—it has given us Obama! Today many conservatives are looking to a Trump or a Cruz as the answer to an all-powerful Federal Empire. The problem is not that we don’t elect the right people to run the Federal Empire—the problem is the FEDERAL EMPIRE! Yes, we will be better off with a man such as Cruz as president but he can do no more than Reagan and Gingrich have already done. As pointed out in Why Not Freedom, we must put power back into the hands of “we the people” and take it out of the hands of the Empire’s ruling elite in Washington. Washington is not the answer, Washington IS the problem!

Bernie Sanders' America Coming to a Southern Town Near You!

Without a doubt America's political and social society is moving in the direction of a Bernie Sanders America. Socialism and secular humanism is on the march and has been since the end of the War for Southern Independence. Many Southern theologians warned that with the defeat of the South, Americans would witness a war upon traditional moral, social, and religious values. Both during and after the War, Southern Theologians warned about the frightening danger of socialism. During the War, James H. Thornwell warned of the advance of "Atheists, Socialists, [and] Communists" as the Federal Empire waged war against the South. After the War, another Southern theologian, R. L. Dabney, warned that secular humanists and communist were attempting to abolish religion

Both before the War and after the War, these Southerners pointed out that the socialist/secular humanist victory were not only made possible by the defeat of the South but were made inevitable.

While talking with a friend from Colorado, I was impressed by his warning about the adverse social and political events coming from the North to the South. As I complained about the rise of secular humanism and the welfare mentality in the South, he assured me, "worse is to come." He noted that currently in Colorado it is more common to hear people condemn "church going" people than to hear people praise "church goers". In Colorado schools it is not uncommon for students to have teachers who are actively engaged in a same-sex "marriage." The teacher's partner is commonly seen at school functions and anyone who questions such arrangements will feel the full weight of the p.c. Gestapo. Also, with the passage of time gun control is almost a complete reality and pot smoking is now a common problem in many middle schools. What he was describing was a society that had fully rejected the traditional Southern view of a moral society and one that had fully embraced big brother government—this equates to the complete victory of Bernie Sanders and his socialists and big government devotees.

As bad as this news is there is more bad news for those of us living here in the Bible Belt, that is, the South. As long as the South is politically yoked together with the secular majority of the United States which agrees with Bernie Sanders' view of America, the South is only ten to twenty years away from being forced to adopt Bernie's America. For those of us who understand that "we the people" of the South are a captive nation within the Federal Empire, this is not a big surprise. Yet, too many of our fellow Southerners will go to church Sunday and believe that the rest of these United States is just like the South. As the Pew Research poll demonstrated, there are two Americas; the Federal Empire, ruled by the Northern secular majority and the conquered Confederate States of America, also ruled by the Northern majority.
